Pentecost: Sabbath

Week 1:

Sabbath—a time of rest and focus on God observed in a 24 hour period in biblical description. Sabbath today looks very different. We don't rest—rest is hard. We might miss out on something, we might not fit in or get the best shopping deal, we might have to say no. Yet, taking time to remember we rely on God is saying yes to our faith and to our God and to ourselves and our family. Look at your schedule this week. Where is a time period—a day, an afternoon, an hour where you can just 'be'? Name it and claim it. Put it in your calendar and challenge yourselves to be non productive for this time you have set aside. Then take 5 minutes to talk about it. How did it feel? What do you think of the practice of rest? Check out Barbara Brown Taylor's little book called "The Practice of Saying No" (it's only 20 pages!)

Faith on the Go

God of mercy and reconciliation, we praise you for accepting and holding our loved ones that have died and that we miss today. As we gather to eat, to pray, to rest and to work, comfort us in our memories and bring joy to our hearts. Amen

Who do you miss today?
Who were you present with?

Revelation 21:1-6—The New Heaven and the New Earth

Day 1

Revelation 21:1-2

What do you see when you imagine the whole world made more beautiful? Does the image of a bride fit? Why or why not?

Day 2

Revelation 21:3

What would it be like to have God living on your street as your neighbor? Comforting? Scary?

Day 3

Revelation 21:4

Has someone ever wiped away your tears? What did it feel like? Imagine a world where no one gets sick, or dies, or is sad. What would that be like?

Day 4

Revelation 21:5

Is it exciting to get new things (toys, clothes, etc)? What are some things that only God can make new? What would a world where everything is new be like?

Day 5

Revelation 21:6

God offers the water of life to all who are thirsty. What do you think that water tastes like? What would it feel like to drink it?

God grants memories and love to hold us steadfast.
